

Young and wise

You know living ain't easy , and living is hot

Living can squeeze you, you know it`s mock

But you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

Cannot understand why the world is so dead

Longing for power , that money can give

But you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

They don't want you to call out for more

They don't want you to call out for more

Give your reaction ,the way that you like

Feel my desire , it`s burning tonight

you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

You will take me higher, cause rock is my life

Screaming for vengeance, the light`s shining bright

you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

They don't want you to call out for more

They don't want you to call out for more

We are young and we are wise, what we have is not a paradise

cannot understand why the world is so dead

you feel that eruption, inside your head

you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

we're young and we're making the world of today we're making the future , so hear what we say

you don't want it all, you don't want it all, tonight

yes i want you to give them attack, and i know that you can give it a crack

Solo Ref